Midsummer Night's Dream

In a Midsummer Night
I close my eyes and see a wide open field
I see flowers
I see trees
I see nature in all its glory
I see an ocean
I look in to the water and see
A butterfly with wings that spread for as far as I can see Fluttering its wings ever so majestically
In its eyes I see hope
In its face I see determination
In its soul I see courage
As I look back into the water
I see that the butterfly is me
